THE NOVEMBER ELECTIONS.

[From the Boston Journal.]

Seven State elections, besides some of a local character, will be held Tuesday, namely, in Massachusetts, New York, Pennsylvania, Maryland, Wisconsin, Minnesota and Mississippi. Of the contest in our own State we have already spoken sufficiently, if not we shall try to make it up before the election is over.

The contest in New York is one of great importance, although a Governor is not to be chosen. It happens, however, that Gov Tilden has staked his hopes for the Presidency on the results of the pending New York election. He was chosen last year by a little over 50,000 majority. He has been particularly active, making up a record which shall serve him in 1876, so that if the majority of his party should now be unceremoniously redirected, it would be understood as a vote of want of confidence in him. The general impression has been that the Democratic majority of last year was too large to be entirely overcome, though the New York Republicans were in hopes of reducing it somewhat. Within the last week or two, however, it up have come to be suspicions of a Republican victory. The grounds for it have been chiefly the revolt against Tammany in New York city, resulting in co-operation with the Republicans. A general waking up of Republican interest throughout the State, and many indications of Democratic disaffection. The Republican State Committee, it is said, are confident that a deficience of 75,000 votes in favor of the Republicans as compared with the last election, will be derived from the increased Republican vote, from reforming Liberals, and from disgusted and stay at home Democrats. The test vote will be on the Secretary of State, the Republican candidate being Frederick W. Seward and the Democratic John Bigelow.

The election in Pennsylvania will be regarded with general interest on account of the size of the state and its political closeness. The following table will show the relative strength of parties at the elections for several years back.

	Rep.	Dem	Maj.
1868 Presidential	342,280	313,382	28,898 Rep
1869 Auditor General	280,272	265,766	14,506 Rep
1871 Auditor General	244,027	208,151	11,876 Rep
1872 Presidential	349,589	317,760	32,047 Rep
1873 Governor	340,259	310,961	17,718 Rep
1874 Treasurer	344,889	319,833	25,056 Rep
1875 Supreme Judge	367,307	362,478	4,829 Rep

As by the tacit consent of both parties this year Pennsylvania agreed to abide by the result in Ohio, the campaign has been dull, until after the Ohio election, which has not left time for very extensive campaigning. The prospect, therefore, is of a rather light vote. The Republican ticket is headed by Gov. Hartranft, whose administration has been deservedly successful and popular, while the Democratic party has nominated Judge C. L. Pershing, of copperhead proclivities during the war, and now one of those professedly hard money Democrats who have no difficulty in accommodating their soft money brethren. The only danger seems to arise from the third party action of the Prohibitionists, who have been offended by Gov. Hartranft's action on the local option bill. We have hopes that the more judicious temperance Republicans will act co-operate with the mass of the party as to overcome all opposition.

In Maryland the contest is between the Democracy, headed by John Lee Carroll, and the Reform party, made up of Republicans and reform Democrats, supporting J. Morrison Harris for Governor. The municipal election in Baltimore the other day, resulting in a heavy reduction of Democratic majorities in spite of palpable frauds committed in their behalf, has shown that the Reform party is a great deal stronger than had been supposed, and hopes are cherished by its friends that it will carry the State Tuesday. The last election was held in Maryland in 1874, the Democrats carrying the State by nearly 20,000 majority.

Minnesota elects a Governor this year. Last year the Republicans elected Chief Justice McMillan by 9885 majority. Governor Davis had 5319 majority. Both parties are sound on the currency question, and there appears to have been no special issues to enliven the campaign. The Republican majority will range probably from 5000 to 10,000.

In Wisconsin the Grangers elected Taylor Governor in 1873 by over 15,000 majority the votes being drawn from both the great parties. This year, however, the Liberals have mainly returned to the Republican ranks, the Granger excitement has wholly subsided, and both parties have taken substantially the same ground upon the currency question. There is every reason to anticipate a handsome Republican majority.

The election in Mississippi is for State Treasurer, Congressmen, members of the Legislature, and county officers. well-informed men say that there is no question of the existence of 25,000 Republican majority in the State. But intimidation, and worse, if need be will do the work so effectually as to give the Democrats the Legislature at least so that is the central point of their determination. A fair vote is the last thing to be allowed by the Mississippi Democracy. We trust that the facts of the coming election will be fully collected and published.

We find an account in our exchanges of the recovery of a portion of the money which was recently taken from the Wilthrop Bank by robbers, and publish it on the third page this morning. Though the bank is perhaps a gainer in that it got any of the stolen funds at all, yet it is a doubtful policy trading with thieves and, when the interests of other banks are considered, has a tendency to induce the most adroit "professional" to attempt further robberies, and if successful they would have something of which to found a hope to screen themselves from justice by a partial restoration of the fruits of their "operations." The detective who figures as an agent for the robbers in the transaction, evidently knew the "professionals," and why he helped to screen, instead of to bring them to justice, is a question which the public may well ask. Bank robbers who have "operated" in this State heretofore have been promptly caught and properly disposed of, and it is certainly a doubtful step which breaks the ice for still further trades through the agency of detectives.

A curious phase of the discussion in the Texas Constitutional Convention is the opposition to a school system. Many of the delegates were almost rabid in their determination not to vote for taxation for this object. One of its opponents contends that public schools increase instances of assaulting widows and rape, and also promote New York State for a series of years to 1300 quarts.

"That the average yield of the best dairies in the State is 1900 quarts.

"In view of the tendency to overestimate the productions of our native cows it seems to me useful and desirable to call attention to the fact that these figures—1300 and 1900—may stand as constants (until revised by further facts) for the yields of milk in the dairy districts of the United States; and, furthermore, that with these constants, each farmer can readily determine the standing of his herd relatively, by the keeping of an accurate milk record."

POLITICAL AND PERSONAL.

The Labor Journal of Fall River comes out strongly against Gaston, and advises labor men to vote for Rice.

Mrs. Lincoln, who is now stopping in Springfield, Ill., takes occasional short walks upon the streets, and seems to be somewhat improving from her late depression of spirits.

A Republican speaker at Springfield, Mass., clearly characterized the Democratic professions of reform as "the irresistible currency in which they propose to pay for the spoils of office."

The Richmond Whig repudiates the word "inflation," but calls rag money "engrave "the fiscal system proposed by the protectors of the people's interests." Pretty, that, but it won't wear.

The Democratic Shreveport Times is at its old game of advising the white man of Louisiana, if they find themselves outnumbered at the polls by the blacks, to win victory by a resort to violence. It is trying to bring out the bloody shirt again.

Hon. Alexander Mackenzie, Premier of the Dominion, arrived in Halifax, N. S., Saturday night by special train, accompanied by Hon. James G. Blaine and wife, Hon. Eugene Hale and wife, who are he visiting guests, and other gentlemen prominent in Dominion politics.

The Iowa Legislature will be composed as follows, as appears from the full returns: Senate, forty-one Republicans and nine Democrats; House of Representatives, seventy Republicans and thirty Democrats. Six anti-monopoly Senators, who hold over and first year acted with the Republicans, are counted with the Republicans in this statement.

A correspondent of the Providence Journal writing from Brookfield, gives the following in reference to the Whig ex-Governor of Maine, all of whom reside in the State:

W. G. Crosby, of Belfast, 73 years old. Unitarian. Practising attorney.

Edward Kent, Bangor, 74 years old. He was also a Judge. Practising attorney.

A. P. Morrill, Brookfield, aged 72. A man of large wealth, and retired. Universalist.

H. Hamlin, Bangor, 68 years old, now a United States Senator. Baptist.

J. H. Williams, Augusta, (acting) about 60 years old. A man of large wealth, and practising attorney.

Lot M. Morrill, Augusta, aged 64 years, now United States Senator. Congregationalist.

Israel Washburn, aged 65 years, now Collector of Customs, Portland District, Universalist.

Abner Coburn, Skowhegan, 73 years old. Baptist. The richest man in the State, actively engaged in business.

J. L. Chamberlain, Brunswick, about 30 years old, now President of Bowdoin College. Congregationalist.

Sidney Perham, Paris, 60 years old. Universalist. Now Secretary of State.

The ex-Governors of Maine are not only temperance men, but in favor of temperance organizations and prohibition of the rum traffic. The present Governor, Nelson Dingley, is about 50 years old, and a member of the Congregational church. He is one of the most active temperance men in the State. The Governor-elect, Selden Connor, is only 36 years old. He is a Unitarian, and an earnest temperance man. The people of Maine are not ashamed of their ex-Governors, and they highly respect their present Governor and Governor-elect.

We noticed a few days ago, says the Boston Journal, if sermon preached by Cardinal Manning in England, in which he spoke with confidence of the return of the English nation as a whole to the Church of Rome. The Cardinal, while it is to be hoped he is more sanguine than justified in this certainly has a great deal upon which to base his prophecy. That there are continually occurring perversions to Rome of persons connected with the leading families in England is in itself pretty good ground for Dr. Manning to stand upon, but when it is noticed that there are frequent conversions from among the clergy of the Church of England that ground broadens out immensely, for it would be hard to say how many such clergyman may at any time be of paving the road "toward Rome" for the benefit of his flock before openly taking and following that road to its end himself. To say that the Church of England is but the vestibule to that of Rome would hardly be a charitable remark, but it would have in it a large element of truth. Its force could be seen through this light of facts, and such facts as the following, which we obtain from a late number of the Liverpool Mercury, are particularly luminous. The Mercury gives a list of twenty-five persons who have recently entered the English Church, and among them appear the names of twenty-two Anglican clergymen. Two of these were connected with one church in Leeds, one was President of the Church Missionary College at Warminster; several are Fellows in Oxford; another is the Very Rev. Dr. Fortescue, brother-in-law of Archbishop Tait; and last but one on the list is a clergyman who is also one of Her Lords Temporal of the realm. Cardinal Manning does not expect to live long enough to see the fulfillment of his prophecy, but there is no denying that the Pilgrim from whose top he sees the promised land—that is Roman England—is no molehill.

AMERICAN MANUFACTURES. During a Republican meeting at New Bedford, Mass., Mr. Rice referring to the recent depression in manufacturing interests, argued that with the improvements in machinery, increasing mechanical skill, and economy in management, there would result a degree of perfection in manufactured articles, and a reduction in selling prices which would enable American manufacturers, ere not distant day, to find profitable markets in foreign countries. At this point he was interrupted by Mr. Grinnell, the president of the famous Wamsutta mills, said to contain more spindles than any other mill in the country, who stated as confirmation of Mr. Rice's views that his mills had very recently made their first shipment of goods to a foreign market. Another mill manager arose and made a similar statement, and was followed by an iron manufacturer who spoke to the same effect of his establishment. These are certainly encouraging facts for American manufacturers. The London Times, it will be remembered, has recently pronounced the American calicoes imported by a Manchester firm, better in quality and appearance than the English goods.

DAIRY PRODUCTION. The tenth annual report of the American Dairymen's Association contains a table giving the average results in cheese factories in 1874. From this it appears that the average pounds of milk to a pound of cheese for the whole season in 196 factories, was 9.94; the average selling price of cheese in 197 factories was $18.44 per hundred pounds; the average net yield per cow was 241.26. The average yield for the best dairies was 1783 quarts per cow; for the poorer dairies 1087 quarts per cow, and the general average 1411 quarts per cow. The highest average for any one dairy during the season of nine months was 2062 quarts. Commenting on these figures, Mr. Sturtevant of South Farmington says in the Scientific Farmer:

"In 1873 I published a paper, giving an account of my careful study of all the dairies within my reach, in which certain facts and certain conclusions [illegible] the average yield of [illegible]

CHANGE OF SEASONS.

All seasons we may come to seek
Where shall my heart rest, artless
Warm summer in the little cheek,
Cold, windy in the breast.

But all things change; and so, mydove,
These sadness shall object;
The winter in thy cheek fleet now,
The summer, to thy heart!

THE HORSE DISEASE.

Just now, when the epizootic disease or horse influenza is again on its travels among us, the following, from one of the best English agricultural magazines, will be interesting to our readers. We give it with more freedom than we ought to do because it commends itself to our judgment, after experience with the writer's own horses during the time when the epizootic first appeared:—

Influenza is distinguished from a common cold by several peculiarities which are worth special notice; but it is necessary to start with the promise that in popular language the two forms of illness are constantly confounded, it is in fact, quite sufficient for colds and coughs to be very prevalent in a district, to give rise to the impression that an outbreak of influenza has occurred. One unmistakable character of influenza is its tendency to assume different types at certain seasons. Sometimes the catarrhal form is universal, at others the digestive organs are principally affected, and the malady takes the shape of bilious fever. Rheumatic inflammation of the joints is an occasional specialty of the disease and sometimes excessive suppuration occurs in the areolar tissue of various parts of the body, causing deep-seated abscesses, which generally end fatally.

The most serious aspect of influenza is that in which the blood becomes charged with febrile products. In these cases the bloody corpuscles are broken up, and putrefactive fermentation, attended with the formation of bacteria and vibriones, takes place. This form of disease, however, is always more or less dependent on bad drainage, or bad quality of food and water. Influenza as it most commonly appears is a catarrhal fever attended from the first with great prostration, and in this particular it is distinguished from an ordinary cold in which debility never occurs until the animal has suffered severely and continuously for some time. The discovery of the peculiar nature of the specific disease is of the utmost importance, because the treatment will differ potentially from that which may be adopted in common colds chiefly in the greater degree of attention, which will be paid to the animal, and in the careful avoidance of all causes which may tend to increase the weakness.

Symptoms of the ordinary type of influenza are sufficiently marked even in the early stage to render the detection of the disease comparatively easy. The horse is dull and languid, the eyelids droop, and frequently a watery discharge issues from the corners of the eyes. Sometimes swelling of the eyelids and nostrils is the first stage of illness which is perceived. The appetite is either lost entirely or is very irregular. The horse walks with indifferently, often staggers from side to side. If the digestive organs are affected the complication will be indicated by a yellow tinge of the mucous membranes of the mouth and eyes, attacks of abdominal pain will follow, and the intestines are implicated in the disease. Rheumatic swellings are generally among the sequelæ of influenza and owing to the pain and lameness which they occasion, they materially retard the animal's recovery. The treatment of influenza of the ordinary kind may be summed up in the short sentence—good nursing.

The sick horse should be placed in a good box well ventilated protected from extremes of temperature. Soft food—mashes and green provender—is desirable, and water may be allowed in any quantities. Medicines are of comparatively slight consequence in the early stage of the disease, and no active remedies should be given without the sanction of the veterinary surgeon to whose care the horse should be consigned, if the disease does not progress favorably under the system of careful nursing. The complications in influenza being, as has been stated, so numerous, it is difficult for the amateur to carry into effect the system of medical treatment with a running a great risk of doing much if not from want of knowing the precise point of the disease he wish it to act on. Nothing is the affection remains in the form of simple catarrhal fever, the measures which have been suggested in regard to diet with the application of mustard, or ammonia liniment to the throat and chest, and the administration of simple nervine medicines will be sufficient. Anything beyond this domestic treatment the farmer will do well to entrust to competent hands.

JERSEY CATTLE

As an appropriate comment in connection with the accompanying portrait of a Model Jersey Bull—an animal that won the first prize at the Fair of the New England Agricultural Society and subsequently at the New York State Fair—we give the opinion of Jerseys as expressed. The idea of Mr. I. B. Bigelow of Framingham County, Mass. for keeping five cows like Jersey cattle, as to their value may be summarized as follows:

Cows are not especially desirable for beef, although the cows fatten readily when not in milk and make a superior quality of beef. They are not very valuable for work but sometimes give twenty pounds per day. A good Jersey cow will give as many pounds of butter per week as she gives quarts of milk per day. They are not as hardy as native stock, but with good care there is no trouble in keeping them. The butter is laid and will bear transportation, is high colored and has a high flavor. A Jersey bull crossed upon native or Short Horn stock is the very best. The quantity of butter would be greatly increased and the quality improved fully 40 per cent.

The suggestion relative to crossing the Jerseys with Short-Horn or native stock, is worthy the consideration of farmers and especially those engaged in dairying.

RULES FOR MILKING.—The following rules are issued from a New York cheese factory for the use of its patrons and are worthy of wider dissemination:

1. Milch cows should have free access, at all times to good running water.

2. They should never be heated, by being run stoned or dogged.

3. The utmost cleanliness should be observed in milking, and by no means wet the hands in the milk while milking.

4. No can of milk should stand where it will absorb the barnyard or stable odor, or any other scent.

5. The milk should be strained and well aired, immediately after having been drawn from the cows.

6. Some arrangement for effectually cooling it at all times very desirable, and when the milk is kept at home over night, is indispensable.

7. Scalding all vessels used about milk at least once a day with boiling water, and rinsing with cold water at night, is essential.

Enfeebling Parasites.

Nature intended that we should use our legs freely, and revenges herself upon those who confine all at their daily avocations re-doors by despoiling them of that robust health which usually falls to the slender class who labor on foot in the open air, and very frequently induces upon them diseases and premature infirmities which they might have avoided by a more active life. Persons who become enfeebled in consequence of sedentary habits or occupations, cannot do better than to resort to a course of Hostetter's Bitters. It restores a means of recovering lost strength. Nor should they postpone a resource to this supreme tonic and preventive of physical decay longer than is absolutely necessary, as weakness is one often valuable as a remedy for dyspepsia, constipation, intermittent fever, biliary and rheumatic complaints.

SEA CAPTAIN CURED

—OF—

RHEUMATISM.

HE GRINS WITH JOY.

LEXINGTON, Mass., June 21, 1875.

PROF. ALLEN'S MUSTANG LINIMENT.

DEAR SIR.—For the alleviation of human suffering I feel it my duty as well as pleasure to certify to the following facts in my own case.

The past spring I was sore afflicted with Sciatic Rheumatism, suffering sighs after night and all night, without the least cessation, the most excruciating pains I ever knew. My doctor who practiced in my family for over thirty years, to my entire satisfaction, and myself, with more than the utmost confidence, said that medicine would do me no good—the cough and pain me, time probably would, and in six or eight weeks it might leave me, in the meantime I must grin and bear it. But I was not disposed to do so, and in my desperation sought at the first article, which under the name of Quack or Patent Medicine, or by other name that I had confidence in, I would relief. It happened that this was the obtained at No. 38 Hanover st., Boston, the directions accompanying directions seemed tensible, and I determined to give it a fair trial. I did so, at the same time being without faith in its efficacy. I followed the directions, and the results were that in using the third bottle I was beneath that it was acting powerfully and favorably, and before using the fourth bottle, my pain had passed away, and I was [illegible] grin (with joy) that I no longer have occasion them.

Yours respectfully,
WM. D PERLEY.

We endorse the above testimonial as genuine
C. C. GOODWIN & CO.,
38 Hanover Street.

Mr. Perley is a gentleman well and favorably known in this community and for the past forty years has been associated by our shipping merchants as one of the most successful captains sailing from the port of Boston. This testimony is genuine and speaks more than volumes could express, in favor of the great merits of the Diamond Rheumatic Cure.

This medicine is prepared by a careful, expert scientific and conscientious physician, in accordance to the desire of numberless friends in the profession, to the trade and among the people. Every bottle is guaranteed to contain the full strength of the medicine, a fact highest state of purity and delicacy, and is superior to any medicine ever compounded by this terrible complaint.

In simple cases sometimes one or two doses are sufficient. In the most chronic cases it is sure to give way by the use of four or five bottles. By this efficient and simple remedy, hundreds of dollars are saved to the sufferer, and lives restored to usefulness, as surely it is by the purchase of useless prescriptions.

This medicine is for sale at all druggists throughout the United States and Canada. If it happens that your druggist has not got it in stock, ask him to send for it or buy of the wholesale druggists in Boston, Concord, N. H., Worcester, Providence, Portland, Bangor and other places.

Price $1.50 Bottle.

THE GREAT REPUTATION

Which VEGETINE has attained in all parts of the country as a

Great and Good Medicine,

and the large number of testimonials which are constantly being received from persons who have been cured by its use, is positive proof of its great value. It is recommended by physicians and apothecaries. As a Blood Purifier and Health Restorer, it has no equal.

VEGETINE is not prepared for a fancy drink made from poor liquors, which debilitates the system and leads to destroy health instead of restoring it.

Are not the many testimonials given for the different complaints satisfactory to any reasonable person suffering from disease that they can be cured? Read the different testimonials given, and no one can doubt. In many of these cases the persons say that their pain and suffering cannot be expressed, in cases of scrofula, where, apparently, the whole body was one mass of corruption, VEGETINE drives it entirely from, cleanses, purifies and cures such diseases, restoring the patient to perfect health after trying different physicians, may remember, suffering for years, is not conclusive evidence, if you are a sufferer, you can be cured. Why is this medicine performing such great cures? It works in the blood, in the circulating fluid. It can be truly called the Great Blood Purifier. The great source of disease originates in the blood, and no medicine that does not act directly upon it, can permanently and renovate, has any just claim upon public attention. When the blood becomes vitiated and stagnant either from change of weather or of all the causes, the VEGETINE will restore the blood, correct the putrid humors, cleanse the stomach, regulate the bowels, and impart a tone of vigor to the whole body. The conclusion is that the public must be as well as the medical profession, that the remedies supplied by the Vegetine Kingdom are more safe, more successful, in the cure of disease, than mineral medicines. VEGETINE is composed of roots, barks and herbs, perfectly pleasant to take, and is perfectly safe to give to infants. Do you need it? Do not hesitate to try it. You will never regret it.

CANNOT BE EXCELLED.

CHARLESTOWN, March 19, 1870

H. R. STEVENS,

Dear Sir.—This is to certify that I have used your "Blood Preparation" in my family for several years, and think that, for Scrofula or Cankerous Humors, or Rheumatic Affections, it cannot be excelled, and as a blood-purifier and spring medicine, it is the best thing I have ever used, and I take pleasure in recommending it to all. I can cheerfully recommend it to any one in need of such a medicine.

Yours respectfully,
MRS. A. A. DINSMORE,
19 Russell Street.

WHAT IS NEEDED.

BOSTON, Feb. 13, 1871.

HENRY R. STEVENS, Esq.

Dear Sir.—About one year since I found myself in a feeble condition from general debility. Your remedy was strongly recommended to me by a friend who had been much benefited by its use. I procured the article and after using a few bottles, was restored to health, and discontinued its use. I feel quite confident that there is no medicine superior to it for those complaints for which it was originally prepared, and would cheerfully recommend it to those who feel that they need something to restore them to perfect health.

Respectfully yours, G. L. PETTENGILL,
Firm of S. M. Pettengill & Co.,
No. 10 State St., Boston.

GIVES HEALTH, STRENGTH & APPETITE.

My daughter has received great benefit from the use of the VEGETINE. Her declining health was a source of great anxiety to all of her friends. A few bottles of the VEGETINE restored her health, strength and appetite.

SOUTH BERWICK, Me., Jan. 17, 1870.

H. R. STEVENS, Esq.

Dear Sir.—I have had Dyspepsia in its worst form for the last fifteen years and have taken hundreds of dollars' worth of medicine without obtaining any relief. In September last I commenced taking the VEGETINE since which time my health has steadily improved. My food digests well, and I have gained fifteen pounds of flesh. There are several others in this place taking VEGETINE, and all have obtained relief.
